SEED RIVER ANNOUNCES STRATEGIC ENGAGEMENT WITH AON3D

Montreal-based startup brings economies and innovation to industrial 3D printing

Phoenix, AZ (September 12, 2018) – Building on a multi-generational passion for entrepreneurial technology, Seed River investment firm announces a new strategic engagement with AON3D. Selected from over a half-dozen candidates, AON3D is bringing economies and innovation to industrial 3D printing.

“We’re excited to engage with AON3D by providing strategic and financial resources,” said Jamil Nizam, Managing Director and Founder of Seed River. “Their unique blend of creativity and entrepreneurial thinking aligns with our investment goals of nurturing companies that can drive next-level transformation.”

AON3D Co-founder Randeep Singh described, “We’re pushing the boundaries on commercializing new materials for 3D printing with advanced thermoplastics. The great thing about 3D printing is that it enables innovative thinking in almost any industry—but at the same time it can be technically or financially unfeasible. At AON3D, our technology makes the process ten times more affordable. That means the resources and mentorship of Seed River will help accelerate and refine the process of getting this technology to the people who need it most.”

Nizam added, “We know it takes more than capital to grow an idea, which is why we consider the culture and spirit of applicant teams as well. We look forward to working closely with the AON3D team as we help support their long-term growth initiatives.”
